**Withdrawals via credit card are only possible if the deposit was made using a credit card

Payments to third-party accounts are not permitted.

Withdrawals are made only to bank accounts from which the funds were originally received.

Funds deposited via credit/debit card will be returned to the same card. If the payment method no longer exists (e.g., invalid credit/debit cards, closed bank accounts, etc.), additional verification documentation will be required.

The total amount you can withdraw to a credit/debit card(s) must not exceed the total amount you deposited from the card(s). Any funds remaining in your account after withdrawing the entire original amount deposited via credit/debit card (i.e., trading profits) must be sent via bank transfer. When withdrawing funds to a credit/debit card it may take 1 to 6 business days for the funds to be credited. After the order is processed it may take the bank where the client holds an account several business days to credit the funds to the account (usually 1 to 3 business days for domestic payments and up to 5 business days for international payments).

The company does not charge any fees or commissions for withdrawals. Any fees charged by the client's bank or a third party are borne solely by the client.

This request must be sent exclusively by email to support@etfobchodnik.sk.

If necessary, the company may contact you by phone or email. Therefore, please carefully monitor the email address provided in your registration including your spam folder.
